short biography and relevant information

PIEK!

Since 1996, Selby Gildemacher operates under the moniker of PIEK! a contemporary and dynamic multidisciplinary art 'group'.

The work of PIEK! includes a humorous and ironic look at contemporary society and examines current social structures through video, websites, performances, installations, iPhone apps and pop music. The work is often tied to place and time and makes use of interactivity to make the viewer part of and/or complicit.

Hackers & Designers

Co-organizer of Hackers & Designers (H&D), with Anja Groten and James B Graves. H&D is an initiative that brings two professions closer to each other in order to develop a common vocabulary and collective design concepts. Since the first H&D meet-ups in 2013, H&D has developed an extensive network of designers, artists, software developers, researchers, scientists, and theoreticians. Traditionally Hackers & Designers activities consist of hands-on short workshops and deal with topics such as web technologies, Peer 2 Peer networks, crypto currencies, typography, conditional design, printmaking, and simple hardware constructions.

Stadscuratorium Amsterdam

The Stadscuratorium advocates the importance and preservation of Amsterdam's art in public space and encourages new art projects. The committee, consisting of 9 members, provides the college, the mayor and executive board, with advice, both solicited and unsolicited.

Advisor visual arts and design in public space in Assen

Consultancy and coordination of the art public space projects for the municipality of Assen.

The advisor puts forward proposals and frameworks, commission descriptions, finances and planning, assessment criteria and presents the artists for the long and shortlists. The external advisor is responsible for the artistic content and interpretation of the commission. All this in close cooperation with the municipality of Assen and the coordinating consultant of Kunst & Cultuur Drenthe.

Specific expertise: art and contemporary technology in public space.
